Village Stays Under Tax Cap for Sixth Consecutive Year

For the sixth consecutive year, the Rockville Centre Board of Trustees adopted a budget that stays within the New York State Tax Cap program while maintaining all Village services at present levels. The budget of $44,798,180 represents a slight increase of $67,069 or 0.15% above the 2018 Adopted Budget. The new real estate tax rate of $50.02 per $100 of net assessed valuation represents an increase of 1.88% above the 2018 Adopted Budget, translating into an approximate increase of $72.50 for the average Village household.

“Holding the line on taxes has been a priority of my administration,” said Mayor Francis X. Murray. “It’s a challenge in light of the fact that more than 70% of the budget is personal service and employee benefits that include the PBA, and two CSEA Unit Contracts. Health costs alone are going up nearly three quarters of one million dollars in 2019. But with the work of our department heads and Village leadership, we again implemented prudent fiscal practices so as not to negatively impact our residents and businesses.”

The Village has long been recognized by the various rating agencies for their handling of fiscal matters. Standard & Poors continues to give the Village its highest rating of AAA. In addition, Moody’s consistently gives the Village one of its highest ratings of AA2.

Over the last few years under the Mayor’s leadership, over $18 million dollars in federal, state, local grants, and gifts have been secured to make improvements within the Village, saving tax payers additional costs. Much of the money has been used to improve roadways, parks and services for seniors. In addition, grants have been obtained to help our Police and Fire Departments utilize state-of-the-art equipment to keep residents safe.

“We will continue to look for ways to reduce costs and bring in additional revenue to the Village, including being aggressive in pursuing grant money, private/public partnerships, and gifts to make improvements at little expense to our residents.”

Residents can view the complete spending plan on the Village’s web site, www.rvcny.us.

Village Welcomes New Police Commissioner and Inspector

The Village of Rockville Centre swore in Police Commissioner James Vafeades and Inspector Ken Schaefer at the April 9, 2018 Board of Trustees meeting.

Commissioner Vafeades has been with the Rockville Centre Police Department for over 28 years. He began his career as a Police Officer for the Village in 1990 and was promoted to Police Sergeant in 2002 before his appointment to Police Lieutenant in 2010 when he also won the 2010 Nassau County Municipal Police Chief’s Association Distinguished Service Award. Commissioner Vafeades graduated from St. John’s University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting, as well as a minor in Management; the FBI’s National Academy in 2011; and most recently Molloy College with a Master of Science degree in Criminal Justice. Throughout his tenure, he has been involved in all aspects of the Police Department’s inner-workings, including supervision of patrol along with the anti-gang, anti-crime, juvenile and traffic units. He has managed and balanced all facets of the Department’s annual budget, overseeing grants, supervising special events throughout the Village, and leading successful local and federal crime investigations. In addition, Vafeades is involved in several community programs, including the RVC Coalition for Youth.

In his new role, Commissioner Vafeades will be responsible for planning, organizing, supervising and directing the activities of all personnel for the Department comprised of 55 officers and more than 35 civilian employees. Commissioner Vafeades replaces Charles Gennario, who served for eight years as Commissioner and a total of 32 years of dedicated service to the Rockville Centre community.

For more than three decades, Inspector Ken Schaefer has been a Police Officer. He grew up in Levittown and attended Holy Trinity High School before attending

Nassau Community College and SUNY Old Westbury. A graduate from the New York City Police Academy, Inspector Schaefer served as a New York City Transit Police Officer for three years before being appointed to the Rockville Centre Police Department in June 1989. He was promoted to Sergeant in January 2001 and Lieutenant in August of 2006. In addition, Inspector Schaefer attended session 248 of the prestigious FBI National Academy in 2011. In his most recent role, Inspector Schaefer was assigned as the Commanding Officer of Support. His duties included supervising training for all members of the Department, oversight of the Police Department Manual/Rules & Regulations, conducting internal investigations and Property and Evidence control. He also serves as the Program Manager for the NYS Division of Criminal Justice Services Law Enforcement Accreditation Program, a position he has held for over 10 years. In December of 2017, the Department was re-accredited after a five-year audit of 110 standards that must be met each year of the cycle. This is the second successful re-accreditation under Inspector

Schaefer’s watch. Inspector Schaefer replaces Glenn Quinn, who served for eight years as Inspector and a total of 32 years of dedicated service to the Rockville Centre community.

“I have full confidence that Commissioner Vafeades and Inspector Schaefer are the right people for these important positions,” commented Mayor Francis X. Murray. “Their years of expertise and experience will help continue the strong relationship between our community and Police Officers and keep Rockville Centre one of the safest communities in New York. I would like to thank Charles Gennario and Glenn Quinn for their 32 years of dedicated service to the residents of Rockville Centre and wish them all the best in retirement.”

Rockville Centre Remembers and Honors Fallen Hero Lieutenant Winchester

Friends of 1st Lt. Ronald D. Winchester, USMC, remembered the fallen Rockville Centre hero at the 22nd Annual St. Patrick's Parade on Saturday, March 24th. A first lieutenant in the 1st Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment, Winchester was killed after a roadside bomb exploded while he was on patrol in Iraq's Anbar province. Through the work of Rockville Centre residents, $35,000 was raised to name a tree house structure at Boulder Crest in Bluemont, Virginia in honor of Lt. Winchester. Boulder Crest Retreat Virginia is committed to improving the physical, emotional, spiritual, and economic wellbeing of our nation's combat veterans.

"Lieutenant Winchester exemplified superior moral character, extraordinary bravery, and loyalty," commented Mayor Francis X. Murray. "This dedication is a small way to honor Lt. Winchester while supporting all of our servicemen and their families for years to come."

Village Hall Comments by Deputy Mayor Kathleen Baxley

This June will mark 12 months since my appointment as Village Trustee. During the course of this past year, I have learned more about Rockville Centre than I ever imagined. We live in a very active, thriving Village, and I am happy to serve as the Deputy Mayor. The activities that go on 365 days a year are varied and complex, fun and exciting.

As Trustee, part of my responsibilities includes being Village liaison to several of our departments: the Sandel Senior Center, the Recreation Center, the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Center, and the Rockville Centre Fire Department. In addition to attending monthly briefing, organizational, and board meetings with my fellow Trustees and Mayor Francis X. Murray, I meet frequently with the supervisors of each of the aforementioned departments, and attend their many events. This newsletter provides me with the opportunity to share some of what I have learned over this past year.

The Sandel Senior Center, run by director Chris O'Leary, is a wonderful place with over 150 senior citizen members. They have more fun than anyone I know. They attend weekly lectures, have parties, attend exercise classes, dance, create hand-made crafts and participate in art classes, often enjoy a daily hot lunch, take trips, and socialize. There is bus service for all members, and our buses are driven by kind, friendly drivers. There is something going on at Sandel every weekday, and they are happy to accept new members at any time. I highly recommend stopping in at some point to see our Seniors in action, and anyone over the age of 60 is welcome to join.

The Dr. MLK, Jr. Community Center, with Director Pat Morris, is active daily as well. At the Community Center, they hold after school and vacation activities for children, sports activities, Cooking Academy for the kids, Youth Employment Training (YETS) for 14-17 year olds to work as summer counselors or in the afterschool program, dance classes for students, cultural celebrations, and one of my favorites: the Silver Foxes, a senior citizen group, meet often for lunch and activities. You can even take a soul line dancing class there! It's a vibrant, busy place and a great part of our Village.

The Rockville Centre Fire Department is another extremely active department. Our RVCFD members are all volunteers, and they proudly take care of the people in our Village. They respond to every need; thus far, the RVCFD has responded to over 984 calls for help in 2018. Chief Brian Cook works incredibly hard for the Village, and he along with Assistant Chiefs Eric Burel and Jimmy Avondet, were recently re-elected to their positions. We are fortunate to have these leaders for our Department. In addition to rescues and calls, the RVCFD participates in our annual 9-11, Veterans Day, and Pearl Harbor Day ceremonies, as well as the St. Patrick's Day parade. Our Department is hosting the 4th Battalion parade this year on Saturday, June 23rd, and I encourage you to come cheer on the members as they march with firefighters from other nearby Villages. The amount of time these volunteers spend on keeping our residents safe is commendable and inspiring.

Lastly, the Recreation Center is as busy as ever, with activities from morning to night, seven days a week. Supervisor Ginger Creegan and her staff keep the participants happy, engaged, and safe, and you can't not have fun there! The tennis courts, new playground with water sprinklers, and fields are popular; the classes are full, the gyms are used constantly, and the gymnastics program is thriving. My children attended many classes and events there, and also volunteered as summer counselors. We are so lucky to have such a vibrant place for all to enjoy.

Rockville Centre is an incredible Village in which to live and raise a family. This is why so many who were raised here come back to raise their own families. I am enjoying all of my time spent with the residents and employees of Rockville Centre, and I am happy to serve as your Trustee.

Sandel Center Wins Big at Monte Carlo Night

The Sandel Senior Center brought Las Vegas to Rockville Centre with its annual Monte Carlo night on Saturday, April 7th. The major fundraising event of the year, sponsored by Friends of Senior Services, Inc. (FOSSI), was filled with a variety of games with professional dealers, big prizes, and music. The night also paid tribute to honoree Butch Yamali of the Dover Group for his unwavering support of the Sandel Senior Center.

Village Celebrates 125th Birthday with Annual Fireworks Celebration

The Village of Rockville Centre is celebrating its 125th birthday at the Annual Fireworks Celebration and concert along Mill River Park on Saturday, July 7, 2018. There will be food and entertainment beginning at 7:30 p.m. The South Shore Symphony concert of summertime favorites will begin at 7:45 p.m. and the Grucci fireworks display over Mill River will begin at approximately 9:15 p.m. A rain date has been set for Sunday, July 8th.

"As we celebrate our 125th anniversary of the founding of the Village, there is no better place for residents to come together under the stars with music, live entertainment and fireworks," commented Mayor Francis X. Murray. "This is a momentous milestone for our Village and I look forward to continuing to improve on this great foundation to make it an even better place for our children and grandchildren."

On July 15, 1893 at Atheneum Hall, the citizens of Rockville Centre took the first step towards incorporation and self-determination, which today, at 125, makes this Village a great place to live, work, and raise a family. The community stability and growth of services which are the hallmarks of today's Village were also an integral part of its early development as a thriving residential and business center. Although 125 years old, the Village government continues to emphasize resident services and provides virtually all essential services requested by residents. Professional management, electric enhancement combined with affordable rates, drainage improvement, water system upgrade, advanced fire alarm and police response mechanisms, clean, safe, and attractive streets, recycling to protect the environment and save taxpayer monies, modern physical plants and facilities for the efficient delivery of services, abundant recreational opportunities, and attention to the special needs of its citizens combine to keep Rockville Centre a youthful and yet mature community.
