A Message on Covid-19 from Mayor Francis X. Murray

For approximately six months, we have been in the midst of an unprecedented national health crisis. Sadly, Long Island had been the epicenter of the Covid-19 pandemic, trailing only New York City in the numbers. However, our Village and all New Yorkers responded with gritty determination and unwavering resiliency. As a Village, we are taking every precaution to keep residents safe and healthy.

I have been incredibly inspired and humbled by the response of our healthcare professionals, first-responders such as police, fire fighters and paramedics, as well as the individuals who kept our world functioning as normally as possible during the stay-at-home orders. We are forever in your debt. I am also proud of our dedicated Village employees who worked throughout the height of the pandemic to ensure our residents have the services they come to expect through these challenging times. Our Department of Public Works, Electric Department, Water Department, Building Department and support personnel have exemplified all that is good about our great community, with selflessness and sacrifice. Thank you for all you do on behalf of every resident.

Like other tragedies, moments of humanity and gratitude shined through the cracks of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our residents rose to the challenge and demonstrated once again that Rockville Centre is a community that pulls together in times of crisis. From residents sewing masks for our medical community, food drives, meals for essential employees, support of our local merchants, organizing birthday car parades, and checking-in on neighbors, there is no shortage of helpers here in our Village. Your acts of kindness and generosity make me proud to be a Rockville Centre resident and your Mayor. Let's continue to work together helping our fellow neighbors. The spirit of Rockville Centre has never shined brighter.

The 66th Annual Summer Playground Program and our baseball school at the Recreation Center, as well as our Summer Program at the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Center may have looked different this summer, but they were able to deliver some much-needed fun for our youngsters. While the Sandel Senior Center remains closed, our innovative staff continues to find new ways to engage members. Through a new television program, Sandel at Home, newsletters, virtual classes through zoom, and conference calls, the Sandel staff is working hard to ensure our older residents are staying mentally and physically safe. While the pandemic has presented new challenges on how to serve our residents, $45,000 in federal grant funding was awarded to the Sandel Senior Center and the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Center. The grant will be used to continue the Sandel at Home television program, the MLK Center's pop-up food pantry, and renovate bathrooms, adding automatic and hands-free faucets, dryers, toilets and soap dispensers to help prevent the spread of Covid-19 at the MLK Center.

Throughout the pandemic, we continued to make great strides on upgrades throughout the Village including infrastructure, roadways and tree plantings, as well as updating and improving our parks and ballfields. Work has been completed on our fourth water tower along Sunrise Highway near our Department of Works. Streetscapes, which include all new red brick crosswalks and cement sidewalks, as well as new decorative black lamp posts, have been installed on North Park Avenue between Merrick Road and Sunrise Highway. The Village began work on the renovation of Tighe Field after securing a $1 million grant from the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York (DASNY). The project will consist of complete athletic field enhancements including improved drainage, a stone wall, fencing and a turf field for our local athletes. Work has commenced and will continue over the next two months.

While school is scheduled to be back in session, I would like to remind residents that speed limits around our schools are 20 miles per hour, whether you are on a side street or a main road. Please take steps to slow down to protect our children and your neighbors. In addition, all drivers moving in either direction must stop for a stopped school bus, which is picking-up or dropping-off children. You must remain stopped until all children are clear of the roadway and the bus stop arm is withdrawn. I would also like to remind our youngest residents to wear the appropriate personal protective equipment and to socially distance when possible. We know our schools have been working hard to protect our children, teachers and staff this school year.

Please continue to stay safe, healthy, and strong and try to make the best of a difficult situation. As always, log onto www.rvcny.gov or any of our social media accounts for updates. We are Rockville Centre Strong!

Village Joins Blue Ribbon Campaign

Mayor Francis X. Murray joined Legislator Howard Kopel and fellow mayors from the south shore in early July to show support for law enforcement with the Blue Ribbon Campaign.

"It's more important than ever that our police and first responders know that we appreciate their dedication to protect and serve our community," commented Mayor Murray. "The Blue Ribbon Campaign is a small way that residents can show their support."

Meet the Candidates

Pursuant to Governor Cuomo's Executive Order to delay local special district and village elections, the Incorporated Village of Rockville Centre will hold a special Village election on Tuesday, September 15, 2020. Village elections will be conducted at the John A. Anderson Recreation Center on North Oceanside Road from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. The following offices with the following terms will be contested for: one Trustee, to fill the balance of an unexpired term.

Nancy Howard

I am running in this special election to complete the remaining nine months of former Trustee Ed Oppenheimer's term, which Mayor Murray appointed me to fill on July 1, 2019.

I was previously elected twice as a Village Trustee, first in June 2011 and re-elected in 2015. I served as Deputy Mayor from 2011 to June 2017, when I stepped down due to a move to Florida in connection with my husband Dave's employment. We returned to Rockville Centre in January 2019, which we have called home for over 25 years and where we raised our four children.

I view my role as Trustee as community service. This administration has accomplished most of the goals we set for our community when we first ran but there's more to do! Rockville Centre is a unique place. We all cherish our small town feel but I also recognize the value of continuing to evolve to meet the needs of all residents: families, singles, seniors – in a community growing more diverse. Inclusiveness and transparency are two of my guiding principles. A more walkable village, a more uniform and attractive downtown and continuing upgrades to an aging infrastructure are some of my priorities.

I have worked as a recruitment and management training executive at Macy's and Solomon Brothers. I have held leadership roles in the RVC PTA, South Side HS Booster Club, Rockville Centre Education Foundation Board, and RVC Community Fund. In Florida, I consulted on a mayoral campaign and was asked to serve on a civic advisory group on infrastructure and smart growth.

I hope that my neighbors and fellow residents will again vote for me, allowing me to complete the remaining nine months of my appointed term and continue to serve all of them to the best of my ability.

Michael Scalere

Michael Scalere, a lifelong resident of Rockville Centre, is currently co-owner and Executive Producer at Soul Kitchen Creative, a television production company.

Soul Kitchen produces and directs video projects for clients such as Nickelodeon, CBS, Warner Music, GoPro, Facebook and many more. Soul Kitchen has done work for charities such as Headstrong, dedicated to treating veterans with PTSD and the Long Island Council for Alcohol and Drug Dependencies (LICADD).

Michael graduated New York University's Tisch School of the Arts in 1995 and has worked for HBO and ultimately A&E Television Networks, where he spent twelve years in the marketing department as History Channel's Senior Creative Director. His work on programs such as Swamp People, Pawn Stars and Top Gear has garnered multiple awards within the television industry.

His parents, Thomas and Florence Scalere, owned and operated Long Island Bed & Brass, a small business in Rockville Centre for nearly 20 years.

Catherine, Michael's wife, is a Toy Designer and has worked for Mattel, Entertainment One and Hasbro.

Michael married into a family dedicated to public service. His father-in-law, three brothers-in-law, sister-in-law and nephew are either active or retired from the New York Police Department. The family can trace back 5 generations of service with the NYPD.

Michael and his wife have 3 children, all graduates of Riverside Elementary School. The children are currently enrolled in South Side Middle and High Schools.

The Scaleres are members of the Parish of St. Agnes, where Michael and his children have received their sacraments.

Sandel Senior Center Maintains Connections While Social Distancing

Tai Chi, sponsored by Lynbrook Restorative Therapy and Nursing, is available for all to enjoy.

While the Covid-19 pandemic has taken its toll on every age group, the Sandel Senior Center has found a way to stay connected while not jeopardizing the health of our most vulnerable population. Through virtual classes, weekly television shows, newsletters, conference calls and emails, members are staying active both mentally and physically.

"The Sandel Senior Center fills an important role in the lives of Rockville Centre's older adults," commented Executive Director Chris O'Leary. "During these unprecedented times, we're doing more than ever to expand our reach to ensure our members stay connected and have the critical support they need. Sandel friends are never apart. Maybe in distance, but never in heart."

In early April, the Sandel Senior Center launched a new program, Sandel TV, on the Village's television channel. It is divided into two sections; "Sandel Fitness" features a variety of exercise classes such as Pilates, yoga, sit-n-dance, tai-chi, total body workout, cardio fitness and more, led by favorite Sandel instructors. "Lifestyles" presents interviews with area professionals such as medical experts, pharmacists, attorneys, business owners and government officials. They present a wide range of topics of interest to older adults. Also featured on "Lifestyles" are art and cooking demonstrations, music performances, sing-along, brain fitness and more. The show runs twice a day (10 a.m. and 2 p.m.) on Optimum's Channel 18 and Verizon's Channel 37, as well as online at www.rvcny.gov.

Sandel staff members helped familiarize members with Zoom where participants join classes, games, lectures, and parties to celebrate special occasions. A weekly Zoom lunch hour connects members informally for a meal. Committees have been able to continue conducting business using virtual meetings, The Sandel Center Newsletter engages members with informative content and provides details on upcoming virtual events.

A licensed clinical Social Worker has been providing services to members and seniors in the community via phone and socially distant outdoor meetings. Additionally, members are participating in a conference call program facilitated by the Social Worker.

"The Sandel Senior Center has been a true lifeline for our older population," stated Mayor Francis X. Murray. "We know that many older adults experience feelings of social isolation, and the staff at Sandel has been innovative in the way they have provided personal contact, television and online programming, as well as other essential resources in this uncertain period."

Once the doors reopen, members will be welcomed back with a new handicap accessible bus. The additional bus, made possible by a grant from the NY State Department of Transportation and a donation from FOSSI (Friends of Senior Services, Inc.), will provide all Sandel members with a barrier-free access to transportation services.

For information about the Sandel Center, or any of the programs and services offered there call 678-9245.

33RD Annual Mayor's Golf Classic

On Thursday, October 1st, the Rockville Centre Links Country Club will be hosting the 33rd Annual Mayor's Golf Classic. The Classic is the primary fundraiser for the Rockville Centre Community Fund that is dedicated exclusively to helping members of the Rockville Centre community. Since 1987, the Community Fund has raised more than $1.8 million in emergency assistance.

Due to Covid-19, this year's Classic will forgo the awards ceremony and dinner. Tickets and sponsorships, as well as journal ads are still available. For reservations or for information about sponsorships or journal ads, call Lois Tinghitella at 516-678-9260.

Clean Up After Your Pet

The Village of Rockville Centre would like to remind pet owners to be a good neighbor and clean up after your dog. In an effort to be courteous, dog walkers should carry disposable waste bags and clean up after their pets. Used dog waste bags should not be left in neighbors' trash cans or recycling bins and should not be thrown into the storm drains on our streets and roadways. Proper disposal of dog waste is required and every dog owner must participate.

Fall Hydrant Flushing

RVC Village water mains will be given their fall-cleaning the week of October 12th. The flushing of hydrants may cause some fluctuation of water pressure and/or discolored (rusty) water to flow into homes and businesses, and although this water is perfectly safe to drink, it may stain laundry. Consumers are advised not to schedule projects, which require clear water during the entire flushing period. The water will be both chemically and bacteriologically safe to drink. Visit the Village website for specific areas and times of flushing near you at www.rvcny.gov. If you have any questions, please call the Water Department at (516) 678-9301.

Swift 911

Get alerted about emergencies and other important community news by signing up for the Village's Swift 911. This system enables the Village of Rockville Centre to provide residents with critical timely information in a variety of situations, such as severe weather, unexpected road closures, missing persons, evacuations of buildings or neighborhoods, and power outages. Residents can register for Swift 911 on the Village's website at www.rvcny.gov.

Village Hall Comments by Trustee Nancy Howard

Rockville Centre's downtown can be considered the heart of our Village. It's where everyone gathers to socialize, dine, shop, exercise, get medical care and much more. It's where residents, visitors, and commerce all come together.

This current Board has long recognized the important financial impact a business district has on its community. Land value, employment, and tax revenue are all benefits of a vibrant and attractive downtown district. In the past ten years, we have seen the occupancy of storefronts go from about 84% to 95%, which can be attributed to several factors.

Probably most significant was making parking free after 6:00 pm, which is friendly and welcoming to movie and restaurant-goers. In addition, the Board began a road beautification program that began with Maple Avenue, which was paid for in large part by grants. We moved on to renovate North Park Avenue, South Village Avenue, most recently South Park Avenue and hopefully in the near future North Village Avenue.

Those improvements included infrastructure where needed, new sidewalks, planters for flowers, new lighting and light poles with hanging flower pots. Crosswalks of stamped concrete provide a nice aesthetic without becoming a trip hazard from brick displacement and define safe crossings for pedestrians. As many as 20 trees are scheduled to be planted when weather permits. We continue to work hard to create an appearance downtown that matches the pride and attention given by homeowners to our residential areas.

Understanding that a beautification program doesn't happen overnight and without the cooperation of government, businesses and residents, we continue to address different aspects while staying true to our ultimate goal and vision.

We know our business district helps create the brand identity of our Village and we are currently focused on creating a more harmonious appearance among the varying buildings and business types throughout the Village.

We have met with the Superintendent of our Building Department, which enforces the building codes. With his input and our intentions, we have begun to make code revisions to improve storefront appearances. We are selecting preferred awning types, materials and colors to create a look that enhances the charm of our Village. We are looking carefully at our sign codes as well. We will go to the limit of what is allowed by law and therefore enforceable, but we will go further to suggest additional details that we hope our merchants will embrace in partnership with the Board and residents for an improved overall appearance.

We will continue to seek grants that help finance additional beautification projects. We hope all concerned will help create a business district that compels residents and visitors to linger, shop, relax and return for enjoyable experiences.

Tropical Storm Isaias Response in the Village

One of the greatest challenges an electric utility faces is preparation for and recovery from a major weather event, such as Tropical Storm Isaias. With wind gusts over 75 miles per hour, the storm caused significant damage to utility and municipal infrastructure across the tri-state region. Three (3) PSEG-LI Transmission lines that bring power to the Village were interrupted during the height of the storm on August 4th that caused an outage to all the residents and businesses in the Village. In addition, downed trees damaged distribution power lines and poles throughout the Village. While some customers were without power for an extended time, the Electric Department is thankful for their patience and support during the restoration efforts.

In preparation for Tropical Storm Isaias, the Village activated its storm preparation and mutual aid planning process. The Electric Department reached out to other municipal electric utilities throughout New York to arrange for line crews. Due to the predicted storm path and impact, many of the Village's normal responders were unable to commit to assist the Village until after the storm passed. As part of the storm preparation process, staffing plans were developed and communicated with the Electric Department staff (line crew, power plant and meter staff). In addition to the Village's line crews, the Village was assisted by five mutual aid line crews and four Verizon pole crews. Contractor tree crews were also brought in to assist the Electric Department to remove fallen trees and debris that damaged the electric lines and poles to speed up the restoration effort. The Department of Public Works was mobilized to clear streets and remove trees blocking roadways throughout the Village. Furthermore, members of the Water Department and the Sewer Department were on-site to connect generators to ensure the water towers were able to pump water and the Sewage Pump Station was up and running. Following the passing of the storm, the RVC Fire Department conducted a damage survey of the Village to help locate trees on the lines, broken poles and wires down.

The Village of Rockville Centre is one of three communities on Long Island to operate its own electric utility. Like many Municipal Utilities and COOP's across New York State, we get power from several sources. The Village gets about 2/3 of its energy from a long-term hydro power purchase agreement with the New York Power Authority. The Village also purchases power, via the wholesale power market (NY-ISO) and its imported through three (3) LIPA transmission lines operated by PSEG-LI. The Village also has the capability of producing power through its own generation facilities. As noted above, during Tropical Storm Isaias the three transmission lines from PSEG-LI that feed the Village went out of service at approximately 2p.m. on August 4th. PSEG-LI was able to restore these transmission lines at approximately 2 a.m. on August 5th, 12 hours after the storm. The Electric Department swiftly engaged its own power plant, that enabled them to restore service to a number of distribution circuits (without damage) including many of the Village's critical facilities.

During the beginning of the storm, the Village communications system was impacted due to the PSEG Transmission outage. This created initial challenges in getting information to our residents, as well as hindering the ability of residents to reach the Village. While we worked through the initial communications glitch, residents were updated throughout the restoration process on the Village website, social media pages and emails to those who signed up for Village alerts on the website.

Internal line crews, along with additional outside tree and distribution line crews, were mobilized and actively worked on electric system repairs to safely restore power as quickly. Restoration efforts led to the following results:

- 34% of customers restored 10 hours after the storm.
- 84% of customers restored 34 hours after the storm.
- 97% of customers restored 58 hours after the storm.
- 99% of customers restored 82 hours after the storm.
- 100% of customers restored 98 hours after the storm.

Although overhead utility lines and poles are susceptible to damage from these storms, the Village has worked hard to maintain and upgrade the electric system. The Village performs regular inspections and maintenance of the electric system. In addition, the Village works with Verizon on an ongoing basis on pole replacements and has a rolling tree trim program that ensures trees near power lines are trimmed every three years. Going forward, the Electric Department will incorporate lessons learned into its storm response and emergency procedures.

"While it is a hardship to go without power, it is even harder now with a pandemic that has families homebound and residents working from home," commented Mayor Francis X. Murray. "I am proud of the professionalism and dedication of our Electric and Department of Public Works personnel that worked tirelessly to restore power to our residents and clear trees from the Village's streets in a swift and safe manner."

While the Atlantic hurricane season is in effect until November 30th, residents are urged to be prepared. For details and preparedness guidelines, please log onto www.rvcny.gov/emergency-management/pages/hurricane-preparedness. Residents should also stay informed with the Village's Swift 911. This system enables the Village of Rockville Centre to provide residents with critical timely information in a variety of situations, such as severe weather. Residents can register for Swift 911 on the Village's website at www.rvcny.gov.

The Village of Rockville Centre Commits to a Sustainable Future

The Village of Rockville Centre is working to reduce the amount of electricity being consumed through the summer of 2024 using sustainable energy solutions. As a result, the Village of Rockville Centre has launched a series of energy rebates for residential and commercial properties.

Rockville Centre Peak Savers, which launched on June 5, 2020, is focusing on smart thermostats and commercial efficiency lighting upgrades. The objective is to meet the goal of lowering energy consumption by more than 2.4 megawatts in the summer (peak) months to avoid increases in infrastructure which could lead to an increase in rates for our Village residents and businesses.

To attract participants, the program is offering a $70 rebate for the first enrolled Nest or Honeywell wi-fi enabled thermostat that is connected to their A/C system. For each additional enrolled thermostat, a $50 rebate is available. Customers will also receive a $20 rebate every year they stay enrolled in the program. The program works by voluntarily allowing the Village of Rockville Centre to increase the thermostat by 1-3 degrees on peak days (when energy usage is high). However, if unable to participate at that time, an override option is available. The customer will always be fully in control of their thermostat.

"This innovative program will allow the Rockville Centre Electric Department to reduce peak electric demand that will in turn help reduce the need for additional infrastructure and reduce costs over time," commented Mayor Francis X. Murray.
